University of California Certifies 70+ FLVS Global Courses for Freshman Admission

ORLANDO, Fla. – (Oct. 9, 2014) — FLVS Global, the national and international arm of Florida Virtual School®, announced that the University of California (UC) “a-g” review board has certified more than 70 of its courses for freshman admission to the university system. In addition, FLVS Global courses meet California standards, all the core courses are NCAA approved and all the Advanced Placement® courses are College Board approved.

The “a-g” subject requirements ensure that students complete 15 college-preparatory courses in the areas of history/social science, English, math, lab science, world languages, the visual and performing arts and the college preparatory elective. FLVS Global offers students a full UC-approved course list in “a-g” instructional areas.

FLVS Global courses load to multiple learning management systems and the course content is customizable to meet customer’s needs.

“We have used several online school providers, but FLVS Global has gone above and beyond,” said Dan Everett, Head of Curriculum for JSerra Catholic High School in San Jan Capistrano, CA. “FLVS Global has taken the time to learn the unique needs of California schools and the issues we face in dealing with the need for UC and NCAA approvals, as well as provided us with exceptional customer service.”
